

Enhancing business systems and processes is at the core of what we do!

Enhancing business systems and processes is at the core of what we do.

With over 100 years of collective specialist knowledge with the applications OpenAccounts, eBIS and Intuitive Dashboards, our consultants work with our clients to bring the best out of these systems and to ensure any challenges faced by users are identified and resolved.

From fine tuning your existing process, to a complete reimplementation, we can help. Our tried and tested frameworks have allowed us to help many clients over the years, improving how they work within their teams and enhancing the utilisation of their applications.

What do I get from Escone Consultancy?

Our consultancy service can benefit businesses in many ways, some examples of specific areas are:

System Health Check

A full review of current usage with documented findings and recommendations.

System Redesigns

A review of current usage followed by implementation of suggested recommendations for existing systems and processes.

New System Implementations

Full system scoping and build, systems testing, training, end user acceptance testing support including documented test plans, full system roll-out and go-live support.

New Module Implementations

Assistance in implementing new modules in your existing applications.

New Reporting Suites

Help in designing reporting suites in existing environments due to change in business operations and requirements.

Why Escone Consultancy?

Do any of these sound familiar?

- Out of date processes no longer suiting the current business requirements
- Diluted internal knowledge due to staff turnover
- Lack of training
- Audit breaches
- Single points of failure

Here is how Escone Consultancy can help:

- Access to an experienced team with proven track record
- Full documentation provided throughout project life cycle providing audit trail and evidencing authorisation for change
- When we work with you, we are you. We become part of your team and collaborate closely to achieve your desired aims
- Our solutions are targeted to your exact requirements
